

Prevention of crime and disorder	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	The applicant has stated that CCTV will be in use, it is not stated on how or who will be there to control unruly behaviour caused by the influence of alcohol and no doubt drug abuse.
Prevention of public nuisance	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	The noise levels from music and general activity were a regular issue from the previous tenant, no measures are stated on how to control this in the future. Music volume at high level will be heard every time the front door is opened unless lowered or other measures put in place. General public gathering outside to smoke or in general conversation can easily be heard and no doubt get louder throughout the night.

We have lived at [REDACTED] since [REDACTED] and have experienced volume issues from the pub in this time, this is not a constant problem but can become excessive on most weekends. We do not expect silence but believe volume should be controlled to an acceptable level. Although some noise is to be expected in the early evening, excessive noise levels up to 2am as in the licence application would be a constant irritation. In regards to our location, there are several properties much closer than ourselves in which noise would become unbearable.

The result of too much alcohol etc can often result in arguments and fighting, will the applicant be in a position to control this or can we expect Police cars and sirens every other weekend? As seen at the applicants other local venue Revival. I appreciate that the taxi drivers that will be called upon are in no way the applicants responsibility but due to the location, due to noise made will no doubt become an increased irritation.
